Your Partner in the Smart City Challenge

Municipal governments across Canada are embracing opportunities to simplify, transform and enhance the “customer experience” for their citizens by adopting a “citizen centric” approach to service delivery.

This trend towards technology enabled citizen relationship management (“CRM”) is supported by citizen demands for frictionless access to their city’s services supported by easy to use mobile and web enabled technology.

The combination of cloud based mobile, user-friendly technology solutions and recent federal government announcements to provide funding and programs supporting technology enabled Smart City solutions provide an ideal environment for municipalities to advance citizen centric initiatives.

Smart City Solutions

Calian has a solid track-record of success in providing professional services and solutions that address complex technology needs to all levels of government for over 35 years. We deliver high-impact technology services, just like a large-scale management consultancy, while maintaining customer-centric focus and agility.

Product agnostic, we provide the solutions and technology that best fit your environment, needs and budget. As such, Calian works with the top North American technology companies to provide a full suite of citizen centred solutions that enable municipalities to leverage technology to transform the citizen engagement experience.

Just some of the Smart City solutions we can provide include:

Citizen Relationship
