

About the Program

Calian Health, in partnership with the Military Family Services (MFS), is pleased to present the Calian Military Family Doctor Network. The goal of the program is to improve access to quality healthcare for the spouses and children of Canadian Armed Forces members.

The program is being launched in Mainland BC where the need is great and there are a number of family physicians willing to extend their practices to accommodate military families.

Over time, access to the network of over 400 family physicians at 140+ Primacy Clinics across Canada will be available to military families.

The goal of this referral program is to expedite the process of obtaining a physician for military families and to reduce the number of military families without a family physician.

How Do I Sign Up for the Program?

To access the program simply obtain a referral form from:

Military Family Health

The families of Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) members are the backbone of our Canadian military. They provide strength, comfort and encouragement when our serving men and women need it most.

For the spouses and children of CAF members, frequent relocation and time away from loved ones can be challenging. Special attention must be paid to ensure both the physical and mental well-being of the family members.

In a report by the National Defence and Canadian Armed Forces Ombudsman¹, it was found that military families experience a high degree of difficulty in accessing and maintaining a family physician. Most military families have a series of physicians over the years rather than the one or two many Canadian families have.

It's time to change that.
